

What's Been Going On and What's Coming Up On the Supplementary Schools Project

Our First Year

The first year of the Supplementary Schools Project has come to an end and we have had a wonderful time. Over 400 students have learnt about university entrance, over 80 teachers have been trained and partnerships have been established between our project and a number of universities, including King's College, The University of West London, Bristol University, Imperial College and Birkbeck.

"They learnt about aspects they hadn't thought of before such as accommodation and introductions to subjects they weren't familiar with before. I wish I had this when I was younger!"

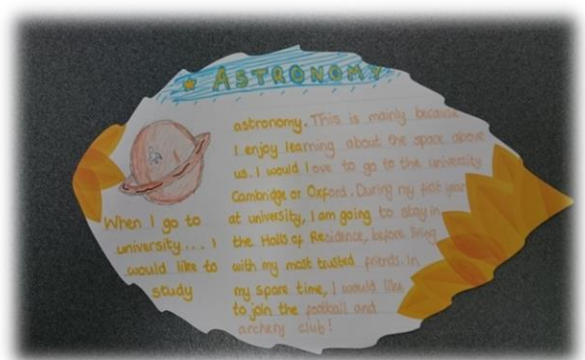

Your team is fantastic and I am so proud of all the work they have done with the kids today. Congratulations to your fantastic organisation"

Book A Higher Education in FOCUS Session

What Is It?

Our Free Higher Education in FOCUS days offer a great way for your students aspiring to university to explore what it involves and how to get there. Trained IntoUniversity staff take the students to a university local to your school for a day of workshops, tours and fun activities. The students learn about the different types of university, the benefits of going onto higher education, student finance and details about life once at university, including accommodation options and the many societies they can join. They are given a tour of the campus and create a leaf on which they write and draw their journey from school to university and beyond. At the end of the day there is a mini graduation ceremony where students present their leaves and are given a certificate congratulating them on their achievements.

Teacher Toolkit Training Sessions

These sessions focus on helping teachers make full use of our great teacher toolkit, a resource filled with useful information about university admission, student finance and university life. The first half is dedicated to general training and in the second half our trained team will concentrate on anything that you feel would be particularly helpful for you and your students. Parents who want to learn more are also welcome to attend these sessions or they can arrange a one-on-one session with one of our staff if they have particular issues they want to discuss.

All of the services that we provide are completely free of charge including any travel to and from a university.
